The Destiny of North Carolina.

We considered a few days ago the water power of Virginia, which upbraids us in every ripple with the sight of those undeveloped resources, which, in the future, must make this Commonwealth the seat of vast manufacturing interests; and to-day we turn to a brief consideration of the water power of North Carolina.

This State presents very much the same topographical features which were considered in our previous article. The water sheds of the Alleghanies turn off streams which rush down every valley and swell into rivers, all capable of turning driving wheels, and plying innumerable tilt hammers and spindles. The two Yadkins, the Dan, the Neuse, the Cape Fear, Deep and Haw rivers, and numberless other streams combine to make up an untold wealth of water-power. And, to turn aside for a moment from the matter specially in hand, there can be no doubt that the day is not very remote when the Old North State, already in a better financial condition than any of her sisters, will realize the grand vision of "Inland Navigation" which rose before the mind of Judge Murphy. These various streams and their tributaries, however, have already been put to good use; and the traveler in Western North Carolina is often astonished to find prosperous factories of cotton or woolen goods situated in the most remote and inaccessible regions. White labor is principally employed in these mills, and causes are at work which must make the State one of the very foremost in the South in the manufacture of the fabrics we have named. These streams and rivers are so near the cotton growing regions of the State and the South generally, that in many cases they will possess advantages over all competitors. Every day the facilities of transportation will be greater, and the economy in charges for the same increased to the native manufacturer. It will probably surprise many of our readers to hear that the Confederate Government, in the last year of the war, drew its main supplies of cotton goods from North Carolina, and had contracts with her factories for the supply of enormous quantities of woolen fabrics. The production of these latter commodities will now be greatly stimulated. The war has liberated the slaves on the great corn and cotton growing plantations of the upper Yadkins and the Dan valley; and this will ultimately have the effect of making those magnificent regions stock raising districts. Emancipation will do for Western North Carolina what free trade is doing for England.

But, there is another and a more powerful cause at work than either we have mentioned. Under our old system it was the custom for each planter to invest his surplus funds at the end of each year in the purchase of more labor and more land. Now he cannot purchase labor, and will therefore no longer require new fields. The consequences will be two fold.

1st. The old exhausted system will be exchanged for that introduced by Mr. Ruffin, after his explorations in the fertile regions of the Eastern portion of the State, and

2nd. The surplus money accruing from agriculture will, of necessity, seek as its best investment the profits of manufacturing.

The people of North Carolina are full of energy and courage. Their soil has been less devastated than that of any other State and she will sooner recover. Let her people, then, invest their funds in domestic enterprises. Let them remember that while their great statesman Macon, in the Convention of 1835, declared the opinion that North Carolina could never become a commercial State; still that in manufactures she bids fair to become opulent and powerful, by mining and manufactures. Let her people turn their annual surplus of money into furnaces and forges, cotton and woolen mills, and they will achieve the great work which lies before them, in the path which nature has marked out for them to tread. Not purchases of negroes and lands, but the erection of busy water wheels, and looms, and spindles, and trip-hammers will make her future all that her fancy can paint it, or her children desire, in opulence and power.—Norfolk Day Book.

PROSPECTUS.

This company owns by warranty title nearly fourteen thousand acres of mineral lands, situated in the counties of Chatham, Moore, Rockingham and Stokes, on the waters of Deep and Dan Rivers, in North Carolina, which abound in plentiful deposits of coal, copper, iron, salt, and, there is every reason to believe from general and surface indications, petroleum or coal oil.

The services of two practical and efficient men, experienced in boring for oil, and stimulated by a long course of success in Venango county, Pennsylvania, were secured by the company several months since and they are now on the lands, with the requisite force, tools, steam engine and machinery, boring a well with very flattering prospects of success. The organization of this company effected some time since has now been perfected in legal form, by act of incorporation, with a capital of $500,000, divided into 100,000 shares of $5 each.

By reference to the valuable and laborious reports of Prof. Emmons, State Geologist, and Commodore Wilkes, U. S. Navy, every one interested will be enabled to judge of the value of the large area of territory secured by the North Carolina Petroleum and Mining Co.

It is well known that a superior article of bituminous coal is now being mined in the Deep river coal region, where a portion of the lands are situated, and this company owns property known to be equal if not superior to any on which shafts have been sunk. Copper, iron and salt also abound, and the attention of capitalists has already been directed to this section on account of its value for the above minerals.

Below are given a few extracts from the journals showing that there is no good reason why there should not be as large quantities of oil in the "Old North State" as in other States.

Oil has been struck in Overton county, Tennessee, on the north line of that State, about midway from its eastern border, eighteen miles from the Cumberland mountains.—Christian (Richmond) Observer.

OIL WELLS IN WEST VIRGINIA.—The Parkersburg Times gives an astonishing statement of the yield of wells in the region thereabout, consisting of Wood, Wirt, Ritchie and other counties, viz: Burning Springs, 2,500 barrels per day; White Oak, 1,500; Lick Run, 300; Horse Neck, 150; and of the several wells on Hughes river, 6,000 barrels per day. The quality is said to be remarkably fine. The Times considers the oil of West Virginia the best yet discovered.

THE OIL EXCITEMENT IN ILLINOIS.—The oil excitement in Clark county is still high. Some eight or ten derricks are up and at work. The deepest well is only 325 feet, with a fair yield of oil. Some of the other wells have struck oil and gas at from 70 to 100 feet.—Much time and money will be spent this summer in the thorough development of the oil resources of Clark county. Men of capital and experience seem confident that oil will be found in large quantities, and are willing to test their faith by a free expenditure in developing the lands. The first company who bored on the land of Hon. T. R. Young, are now engaged in trying to raise the anger which was lost last fall. The Eastern Illinois Company will begin work in a few days twelve miles southwest of the first well. The prospect in that locality is good.—Chicago Tribune.

It is known that after a few months boring in the vicinity of Lynchburg, a large vein of oil was struck and a productive well is now in successful operation. This is on the same line with, and about 80 miles from, the company's first well on Dan River, where the indications both general and particular are similar.

In order to have sufficient means to develop this valuable property in such a manner as to insure success, the Directors have authorized 10,000 shares of the capital stock to be sold to raise a working capital, and subscriptions for that number or any part thereof will be received.

An uncommonly favorable opportunity for investment is thus afforded, as those who choose to buy stock under this offer will have the advantage of an equal footing with the original corporators in an enterprise which, after the example of the immense profits realized in those of a similar character in other States, though in many respects on less favorable conditions than this, (compare the extent, cheapness and fee simple title of the basis of operations here offered) gives reasonable assurance of the most lucrative results. In many instances in sections of less favorable oil localities, shares have advanced in a few days from $2 or $5 to $20 and even $50, and poor men who made small investments realized fortunes.

Further information may be had at the office of the company, one door north of the Court House, Greensboro, N. C., where books of subscription are now open.

By order of the Directors.

A. G. BRENIZER, Secretary.

Greensboro, N. C., Aug. 3-3tawtf

Albany Agricultural Works, Albany, New York.

The public are hereby notified that in order to insure to them the Genuine Machines above mentioned, the Patentees and Manufacturers, (successors of Emery Brothers) have appointed Dunn, Plummer & Co., Petersburg, Va., as their Sole Agents, for this city and vicinity, for their sale at manufacturer's prices, with Transportation only added. As other parties are making Cotton Gins without the improvements which have given these Machines their superiority and unexampled success, and are offering them to the public with nearly the same representations, this notice is to prevent the imposition and disappointments of purchasers who desire the well established and approved Machines manufactured only by us.

THE UNIVERSAL COTTON GIN AND CONDENSER of Horace L. Emery's Patent, may be readily distinguished by their having the PICKER ROLL SUPPORTER suspended midway in the hopper over the saws, for supporting and moving the COTTON ROLL and preventing all possibility of choking or bridging of Cotton in the hopper from any cause. Also their air supply openings to an air chamber over the Brush Cylinder, and the words "HORACE L. EMERY'S PATENT" and Albany Agricultural Works, in raised and stenciled letters upon different parts of the Machine.

IMPORTANT SALE

IN WILSON NORTH CAROLINA

THE undersigned, having been duly appointed and empowered by the stockholders of

to make sale of that VALUABLE PROPERTY, including all the buildings, together with about Twelve and a fourth Acres of Land, will offer the same at public auction, on the 14th day of September next.

The Seminary is a large and commodious building, admirably arranged for school purposes, and contains a sufficient number of rooms to accommodate about TWO HUNDRED STUDENTS. The buildings are nearly new, having been erected in 1860, and are of every kind needed in a first class Seminary.

The Seminary is located on the Eastern boundary of the town of Wilson, below the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad, and on an elevated spot of ground, well shaded, and having excellent wells of water. The proverbial healthiness of the town of Wilson, (it being the highest point on the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad,) and the morality, intelligence and refinement of its citizens, make it one of the most desirable locations for a first class, Male or Female, Seminary in the State.

Of the 12¼ acres of land a sufficient quantity will be sold for school or other purposes, together with all the buildings formerly used by Seminary, and the balance of the land will be sold in lots, the size of which will be announced on the day of sale.

TERMS OF SALE.—One-fourth cash; on the balance a credit of six months will be given.

JOSHUA BARNES, President.

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE,

LOCATED IN AND ADJOINING THE TOWN OF WARRENTON, N. C.

FOR SALE.

The Warrenton Female College is now offered for sale, on reasonable terms. This College has been in successful operation for over twelve years, and, during that time it has earned a reputation as an Institution of learning, second to none in N. C.

The location is such as to warrant a full attendance of pupils, being very accessible from any point, especially the Eastern portions of N. C. and Va.,

The Committee, who have been empowered to make sale of this property, deem it unnecessary to say more of this Institution as its character for a high grade of scholarship, and the elevated standard of morals inculcated, under the eye and supervision of its late President E. E. Barham, is already well known.

The society in which this College is located is known to be equal to any in the South.

There is now a sufficiency of Buildings and other Conveniences attached to this Real Estate, to conduct a large and flourishing school. The premises contain about SIXTY ACRES of Land a material portion of which is within the Corporation. This, with all or a part of the furniture, &c., belonging to the same, can be purchased with the land and buildings. This property will be offered privately for sale until Wednesday the 3rd day October next, and, if not then sold, will be on that day sold, at public auction, to the highest bidder.

The Committee are fully authorized to sell, and would say that a rare chance is offered to any party wishing to purchase such property, as time sufficient, if required, will be given. Possession given immediately.

Any person or party wishing to examine the property will be shown it by, E. E. Barham, the present occupant, or by any one or more of the Committee.

THE SENTINEL.

WM. E. PEAL, SEATON GALES, } Editors.

Thursday Evening, Aug. 30, 1866.

FOR THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES, AS IT IS, AND THE UNION AS IT WAS. NO FURTHER AMENDMENTS.

FOR GOVERNOR,
JONATHAN WORTH,
OF RANDOLPH.

The Late Hon. Jno. M. Morehead.

The telegraph announced, on yesterday, the death, on the day previous, at the Rockbridge Alum Springs, Virginia, of the Hon. John Motley Morehead, of Guilford. Previous information had admonished us of his precarious health, but we had not anticipated a fatal termination of his malady. The intelligence of his demise will cause general regret throughout this State, of which he has been so distinguished and useful a citizen.

Gov. Morehead was born in Rockingham County, July 1798, and was, consequently, at the time of his death, in the 69th. year of his age. He was educated by Rev. David Caldwell, and graduated, in 1817, at the University. In 1821 he represented the county of Rockingham in the House of Commons; after which he removed to Guilford and represented that county in the Legislatures of 1826 and 1827. During all this interval, and up to the year 1840, he pursued the profession of the law,—practicing at the bar of his circuit with great success.

In 1840 he was the candidate of the Whig party for Governor, and was elected over the Hon. R. M. Saunders, and re-elected in 1842 over the Hon. Louis D. Henry. Both of those campaigns, from the ability and vigor with which they were conducted, are perhaps the most memorable in the political history of the State. In the prosecution of them Gov. Morehead acquired a reputation as an effective and popular stump-orator second to that of very few men in the country. His administration as Governor of the State was characterized by unwearied industry, signal ability and great acceptability to the people. To his efforts and management the former Common School system of the State was largely indebted for its inauguration and perfection.

In 1848, Gov. Morehead was President of the great Convention in Philadelphia, which nominated Gen. Taylor for the Presidency.

He was a member of the first Confederate Congress, and, throughout the progress of the late war, though strongly opposed to its inception, adhered to the fortunes of his State and section with a manly and unflinching fidelity.

Few men, if any, have lived in North Carolina, who devoted themselves with greater assiduity, zeal and success to the development of the material resources of the State.—Perhaps the most active and influential of our citizens and capitalists in securing the charter of the North Carolina Railroad and the subscription to its stock, he was long its President, carrying to the discharge of the duties of that office a rare executive talent and a practical judgment that was seldom at fault in matters of business. He has been more or less identified, for the last twenty years and upwards, with all our works of Internal Improvement, and with many of our mechanical and industrial enterprises, and contributed more to their general stimulation and success, it may with safety be asserted, than, perhaps, any other man in the State. In these respects he did North Carolina distinguished service.

Gov. Morehead was for many years a Trustee of the University; and it was at the late Commencement of that Institution, deeply interested, as he always was, in the cause of education and in the success of the College, that we last met him,—in somewhat indifferent health, it is true, but with every reason to hope that his remarkably robust constitution would soon overcome the approaches of disease.

In disposition and character Gov. Morehead was genial, social and urbane.

His death deprives the State of a representative man,—of one who had filled a very large measure of usefulness, and who was devoted to the interests of the Commonwealth. His fellow-citizens at large have reason to cherish his memory as a man of mark and a faithful public servant, while the immediate community in which he resided is called upon to deplore the loss of one of its most eminent lights. It will not be slow in paying suitable tributes to his memory, and in recording its appreciation of his uncommon qualities.

THE RADICAL organ in this City measures for other people out of its own bushel,—forgetting that the standard is universally rejected as spurious. It falsely says that if we had full sway, we would call a Convention and prescribe a test-oath that would disfranchise every man that did not sympathize with the Confederate cause.—Our proscription would not be, however, even in that case, a hundredth part so sweeping as the one that you, Mr. Ex-P. G., and Stevens, Sumner, Brownlow and Butler, propose. You wish to disfranchise and degrade all who did sympathize with their friends and their section during the war. And this, too, after having urged them to fight until the last dollar and the last man were exhausted!

THE Standard again charges disloyalty and bad faith upon the masses of the Southern people, because, forsooth, nearly all the Southern papers, except those of the Radical stamp, are "well sustained by patronage." If the Standard were better sustained, it would doubtless see the matter through different spectacles. Let it mend its political morals, learn to be less vindictive and malevolent towards its neighbors, and atone for its agency in bringing on the war by ceasing to stir up present wrath and bitterness, and perhaps its prospects may improve.

A Northern correspondent says he is "a Radical, but neither a bigot nor a fanatic." Here is a subject for Barnum.

Resources of North Carolina.

Apropos to the article on our first page, taken from the Norfolk Day Book, and entitled the "Destiny of North Carolina," we have been impressed with a sketch of our resources, as pourtrayed by a quaint and graphic pen, more than 150 years ago, long before the industry of man had sought their development.

It is not often that the first enthusiastic impressions of a superficial explorer are verified by subsequent experience. Our own State, however, presents an exception in this respect. Sir Walter Raleigh, and other adventurers of the 16th and 17th centuries, who touched upon our soil, even in their desire to magnify the importance of their discoveries or propitiate the favor of their Sovereigns, drew no over-wrought picture of the goodly land into which their lines had fallen.

The sketch, to which we refer, however, was written by Lawson, Surveyor-General of North Carolina under the reign of the gracious Queen Anne, who made his first voyage to the State about the closing year of the 17th century.—We make the following extracts in the unique and original language of the author,—merely premising that we must a little expurgate as we go, as the tastes of the day in which he wrote were not altogether so refined as they might have been, although it was called the golden age of English literature:

"I proceed (he says) to what remains of the present State of Carolina, having already accounted for the animals and vegetables as far as this volume would allow of, whereby the remainder, though not exactly known, may yet be guessed at, if we consider what latitude Carolina lies in, which reaches to 36 deg. and 30 min. Northern latitude, as I have before observed. Which latitude is as fertile and pleasant as any in the world, as well for the produce of minerals, fruits, grain, and wine, as other rich commodities. And, indeed, all the experiments that have been made in Carolina, of the fertility and natural advantages of the country, have exceeded all expectations as affording some commodities which other places, in the same latitude, do not. * * As good if not better mines than those the Spaniards possess in America lie full West from us; and I am certain we have as mountainous land and as great probability of having rich minerals in Carolina as any of those parts that are already found to be so rich therein. But waiving this subject till some other opportunity, I shall now give you some observations in general concerning Carolina; which are, first, that it lies as convenient for trade as any of the plantations in America; that we have plenty of pitch, tar, skins of deer, beeves, fur, rice, wheat, rie, Indian grain, sundry sorts of pulse, turpentine, rosin, masts, yards, planks and boards, staves and lumber, timber of many common sorts, fit for any uses; hemp, flax, barley, oats, buckwheat, pork, tallow, hides, wax, cheese, &c., besides drugs, dyes, fruit, silk, cotton, indigo, oil and wine, that we need not doubt of as soon as we make a regular essay,—the country being adorned with pleasant meadows, rivers, mountains, valleys, hills and rich pastures, and blessed with wholesome, pure air; especially a little backwards from the sea, where the wild beasts inhabit, none of which are voracious. * * *

* * There cannot be a richer soil, no place abounding more in flesh and fowl, both wild and tame, besides fish, fruit, grain, cider, and many other pleasant liquors, together with several other necessaries for life and trade, that are daily found out, as new discoveries are made." * * * * * *

"As for the climate, we enjoy a very wholesome and serene sky, and a pure and thin air, the sun seldom missing to give us his daily blessing, unless now and then on a winter's day, which is not often; and when cloudy, the first appearance of a North-west wind clears the horizon and restores the light of the sun. The hotter months being refreshed with continual breezes of cool, reviving air; and the Spring being as pleasant and beautiful as in any place I ever was in." * * * * *

"If a man be a botanist, here is a plentiful field of plans to divert him in. If he be a gardener and delight in that pleasant and happy life, he will meet with a climate and soil that will foster and promote his designs in as great measure as any man can wish for. All sorts of handicrafts, and carpenters, joiners, masons, plaisters, shoemakers, tanners, tailors, weavers, and most others. Many with good beginnings, and God's blessing, thrive very well in this place, and provide estates for their children."

"It (the Sentinel) takes special pains to produce the impression that there is no foundation for the fact, that in many of our Western counties Union men have been persecuted under the forms of State law, while secessionists have been allowed to go unpunished."—Standard.

We not only take pains to "produce the impression" that such is not the case, but we say unequivocally that the assertion is without foundation that any such state of things exists. We defy the Standard to produce the evidence of any such persecution; not ex parte statements of criminals, who have fled to the so-called Union covert as to a "city of refuge," but the proof. Will it publish what the Commissioners, recently sent to the West to investigate these and kindred matters, have to say on the subject? We have not seen their report, but it is rumored that they did not find the "mare's nest" over which the Standard is so exercised, though they probably sought it with a keen scent and credulous ears.

THE STATE elections in the North will soon begin to attract attention. Vermont opens the ball on the 4th of September next, and Maine follows on the 10th. prox. The former State elects a Governor, three members of Congress and a Legislature, which will fill the vacancies in the United States Senate occasioned by the decease of Jacob Collamer and Solomon Foot. Maine chooses a Governor, State Legislature, and five members of Congress.

The Radicals have the luck of commencing a political campaign with two New England States in the front of the skirmish line. The Conservatives do not pretend to make a serious contest in Vermont; while in Maine the best they can hope to do is to reduce the heavy Radical majorities.

THE MEEK AND HOLY BROWNLOW is out again in an address. He desires to have a few words with "the loyal men" of Tennessee. "Loyalty," he assures them, "is becoming despicable," and as he prides himself upon being a fine illustration of that particular virtue, we are not at all sorry to be told that he, and such as he, are beginning to appreciate the degradation they have brought upon themselves.

"Under Duress."

The Petersburg Index is ventilating the preposterous and discreditable declaration of Mr. Holden that he signed the ordinance of secession under duress. It quotes the following choice extracts from the single issue of the Standard of Dec. 25, 1861, eight months after the State seceded: and thereupon arrives at the conclusion that "Congress was assuredly right in refusing to send such a rebel even to San Salvador:"

"The Winston Sentinel seems to have been much refreshed recently by an article of ours headed 'The Point Settled.' The editor says: 'it reminds us of the Standard of other days'.—When has the Standard talked otherwise, than in that article? In 1860, immediately after the John Brown raid, we urged the Governor to convene the Legislature and recommend to that body the appropriation of one million of dollars for the defence of the State. And in February last, when we were struggling to preserve the Union, and to avert the calamities of war, we repeatedly declared that THE UNION COULD NOT BE MAINTAINED BY FORCE, that it would fall TO PIECES AT THE FIRST TOUCH OF AGGRESSIVE OR COERCIVE POWERS, and that if Lincoln should EVEN THREATEN the Southern States with the sword, WE would DEFY AND RESIST HIM."

"The old Federal Government, it is true, appears to be desperate, and is controlled by a spirit of fanaticism, which knows neither justice nor fear because there is no reason in it."

"We are seeking to promote the true interests of North Carolina without regard to party, and to urge on the successful prosecution of the war in the most energetic, yet economical manner."

"We sincerely hope that Lincoln's Government will not accede to the English demand, (to surrender Mason and Slidell,) and that war will be the result. Such a war would soon open our ports, and would assuredly end beneficially for us, while it would still more deeply humble our wicked enemies."

"It is said that the RASCALLY YANKEE BLOCKADERS, off Charleston harbor, fired a salute of thirty guns in token of their joy at the late destructive fire in that city. Such is the FIENDISH character of the enemy we are fighting."

"God grant that it may prove to be the day of redemption to the Southern States from the tyranny and lawlessness of the NORTHERN DESPOTISM, and from further devastations by this CRUEL, UNJUST AND BLOODY war."

Petroleum in North Carolina.

We publish, as a matter of interest, the following letter from W. C. Kerr, A. M., State Geologist, late Professor of Chemistry, Mineralogy and Geology, at Davidson College.

Messrs. A. G. Breniser, E. P. Jones and others of "The North Carolina Petroleum and Mining Company," Greensboro, N. C.:

SIRS:—In your letter asking my opinion of the prospects and probabilities of Petroleum operations in North Carolina, you state that your procedure will be much influenced by my answer to your inquiries. Let me say in the beginning therefore, that there is yet too much doubt and uncertainty enveloping the geological theory of that subject to make it prudent to base an operation upon any scientific opinion, which in the present state of our knowledge of the matter, can claim to be little more than conjecture. The whole subject is so new and the facts have accumulated so rapidly and cover so wide a field, and so many points remain still in obscurity, that it would be unsafe to venture a prediction that oil will or will not be found in any given locality. The only satisfactory method of settling the question of its presence is to make an experiment by boring. And this is no very difficult or costly affair; to such a degree of simplicity and perfection has the manufacture of the implements for the purpose been brought and so much skill has been acquired in the use of them. And I was glad to find on visiting last week the ground where your machinery has been erected and the preparations nearly completed for sinking the first well, that a company of citizens of North Carolina have the enterprise and public spirit to make this exploration, which must inure to the common benefit as well as that of the immediate members of the company. For you will decide satisfactorily and finally and in the only way in which it can be decided, the question of the existence of petroleum in available quantity in North Carolina.

And whether you succeed in finding oil or not, your experiment, besides its general scientific interest and the light which it must throw upon several vexed questions, will probably bring to view new resources of coal and iron and not improbably also of lime, salt and gypsum, whose presence, in association with the coal, there are good reasons for suspecting.

In reference to the question of the probability of your finding oil, it is proper to state, as I shall do briefly and frankly, in answer to your inquiries, what I consider the fixed and ascertained facts and principles bearing on that point, omitting whatever is merely conjectural.

Petroleum or mineral oil is of organic origin, being derived from the accumulations of the remains of vegetables and (chiefly of) animals of former ages, which lie buried deep in the rocks. Oil may be expected therefore only where these fossils abound. It is seldom found (if at all) in the rocks where it originated, but at a higher level. It is found chiefly in sandstone, which is never the source of its production. It does not occur in metamorphic or altered (so called primary) rocks.

The rocks of North Carolina, except the Deep and Dan River coal measures, (and the marl region of the coast) are of this description and contain no fossils; so that you have selected the only localities in the State where there is any probability of success; because there only the rocks are not metamorphic and there sandstones and fossils abound, and since these coal formations are of no great thickness and the oil lies above the horizon of its production, you may expect to find it, if at all, at no great depth below the surface.

It is important in fixing the location of your wells in a coal region to seek indications of bituminous coal, the presence of anthracite denoting a degree of metamorphism (or alteration of the constitution of the rocks) which implies the absence of petroleum; and the chances of success will be further increased if you select a point towards which the rocks incline upwards from opposite directions, an anticlinal axis, in geological phrase.

Believing that you have the energy and perseverance to carry through your laudable undertaking and hoping that it may result profitably to yourselves, in the complete realization of your hopes, and to the State by the development of her stores of hidden wealth, let me assure you that no one will rejoice more sincerely in your success than myself. Yours respectfully,

W. C. KERR,
State Geologist, N. C.

August 22., 1866.

The New York World is confident that the Conservatives will carry Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana. We wish they could carry New England also—out of the country.

REMOVAL OF RADICAL OFFICE HOLDERS.—The authority of Chancellor Kent, as quoted in the following extract from the World, fully establishes the rightful power of the President to remove from office all refractory subordinates:

"It is too late," wrote the great Chancellor, "to call the President's power in question, after a declaratory act of Congress and an acquiescence of half a century. We should hurt the reputation of our country, and we are accused already of the republican tendency of reducing all executive power into the legislative, and making Congress a National Convention."

The question of the right being thus affirmatively settled, the expediency of such a measure is all that now needs occupy our attention, and we are rejoiced to see daily indications that President Johnson is thoroughly convinced on that score.

So long as the subordinate officers of a vessel behave themselves, no matter how much they may differ in opinion from the Captain as to the best mode of navigating his vessel, no great harm is done or is likely to ensue. But when they incite to mutiny, and even threaten to depose their superior, and run the ship to suit themselves, upon the reefs, and rocks, and quick-sands, it is high time that the strong arm of authority should be interposed. They should be put off at the first port.

THE Standard isn't pleased with the proposed Soldiers' Union Convention at Cleaveland. It ridicules the signers to the call (among the number many distinguished and eminent men,) as "verdant." It attempts to create the inference that Gens. Grant, Sherman, Hooker, and others, do not sympathize with its objects, because their names are not attached to the address. Is it possible that the Standard is so "verdant" as not to know that the army regulations, in spirit, if not in express terms, prohibit officers of the army from engaging in such political movements? The names of the signers to the call are those of ex-Army officers, and they out-number, in the ratio of at least twenty to one, the list appended to that other call for a Radical Soldiers' Convention at Pittsburg.

MR. HOLDEN calls Stanton "that pure patriot." He has heretofore eulogized Brownlow as that "glorious old patriot." Can't he put in a word or two, in the patriotic line, for Hamilton, Forney and Butler? And there is Holt, too,—the proven suborner of perjury! Isn't he a patriot, also?

BUTLER SLIGHTLY REPROVED.—The New York World lets fly at Beast Butler, who said a few days since that the fighting generals were Radicals, the following sharp arrows:

"Could there be a greater stretch of impudence than for this Big Bethel blunderer, this digger of the Dutch Gap ditch, this fugitive to and from Fort Fisher, this "bottled-up" Butler, the scorn of General Grant—could there be a greater piece of impudence than for him to spout charges and inuendoes that the fighting generals do not approve the President's policy?"

LARGE

Opening of New Fall Goods,

With an extensive assortment of CARPETS, RUGS, DRUGGETTS AND GENERAL HOUSE-KEEPING GOODS, and an entirely new stock of the handsomest DRESS GOODS the market affords.

Ladies will find this the best opportunity to procure choice new styles of FALL DRESS GOODS, which I am now opening in great variety, such as splendid Engenia and Empress Cloths, Crepes, Merinos, Goldanelia, richly embroidered—an entirely new things, rich, brilliant silk stripes on chene grounds; "Transconia A'Soie, effective Careaux, with rich Broches,' "Lornetto, effective Satin Ca[illegible]ux," on lasting finish grounds, very costly; "Rich Valentia, in plain chene," all new and desirable shades, prime qualities and beautiful designs, with rich Broches.

A magnificent assortment of

SQUARE & LONG SHAWLS

in all their new styles and combinations, at prices that will not fail to please. I would call special attention to my stock of the largest in Va., or North Carolina, embracing 20,000 yards, all bought at auction, and will be sold at prices far below any similar quality ever offered in this market. I have also just received over 10,000 yards of PANTALOON GOODS, in every variety of finish and quality, varying in price from 30c, to $3. This stock is the largest and most complete of the kind that I have ever offered, and will be constantly replenished during the season as the demand requires.

At a future day I will enumerate the different lines of Goods I usually keep. Suffice it to say, at present, that everything kept in any first-class Dry-Goods House can be found here, in every variety, at the lowest prices.

I would say to those in want of

that the greatest care has been taken in the selection of the best colors and finest fabrics, and they have but to be seen to be appreciated, so that those in want had better

THE SENTINEL.

Thursday Evening, Aug. 30, 1866.

CITY AND STATE ITEMS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—See announcement of Jno. N. Bunting, Clerk of the Superior Court for Wake.

Mr. Rayner offers for sale a 45 Saw Cotton Gin, as good as new, and other valuable and improved agricultural implements.

J. J. Litchford, Auctioneer, Hargett St., announces a grand Salmagundi auction for Saturday morning.

THE IMPROVEMENTS on Market Square are progressing finely. No less than four handsome and substantial brick structures are going up, while that of Mr. Lynn Adams is rapidly approaching completion. It will soon be ready for occupancy.

By the way, we are satisfied that the agitated removal of the market would not only work an inconvenience to the majority of our citizens, but would be an act of injustice to the gentlemen who are doing so much to improve that part of the city. Besides, where is the money to come from to build another market? That's the question; and it is one much more easily asked than answered.

MAHLER'S new Store, on Fayetteville street, is a little gem. The metamorphosis from the unsightly edifice that it once was is the most complete we have ever seen. The general interior arrangement and decorations are beautiful, and reflect credit upon the taste of all concerned.

DEATH OF REV. P. W. DOWD.—We are pained to learn that the Rev. P. W. Dowd died, at his residence in this County, on Tuesday. Mr. D. was a man of fine abilities as a preacher, and wielded an extensive influence.

PERSONAL.—Mr. A. G. D'Andahazy, one of the attaches of the "Richmond Anzieger," (German Advertiser,) is in this city, as the agent of that paper and the Richmond Times, for the collection of subscriptions and advertisements. He is on an extended Southern tour, in the interest of both the above journals.

Mr. D'A. exhibited to us a very fine lithograph portrait of Jefferson Davis, executed by Charles L. Ludwig, Richmond. The portrait is nearly life-size, and the likeness is one of the best, if not the very best, of any of the portraits of Mr. Davis now extant.

We understand this lithograph is the first of a series of the distinguished Southern men, who were the acknowledged leaders in the late struggle for Southern independence. The "counterfeit presentments" of Gens. R. E. Lee, T. J. Jackson, and Joseph E. Johnson are to follow in succession. Mr. D'Andahazy, in his visit to the South, will secure an agent in each of the cities for the sale of the portraits.

POWDER.—All the restrictions on the importation of arms and ammunition into the Southern States have been removed by an order dated 21st. inst. Now we can buy, without stint, the wherewithal to kill crows, squirrels, and the like; and so any one who wants powder can get ample supplies from any of the merchants who advertise in the Sentinel.

HOMICIDE.—A letter to the Newbern Times mentions the death of Mr. Fred. Perry, of Beaufort, from the effects of a shot received on Sunday night, while walking with some ladies.—The writer adds: "the assassin has been found."

SUICIDE.—The Postmaster at Kinston, Mr. West, committed suicide at that place on Tuesday. Cause unknown.

THE ANNUAL meeting of the Stockholders of the Western N. C. Railroad takes place at Morganton to-day.

THE LATE rains have been most cheering and invigorating. Though too late to benefit the corn-crop materially, they have been of great service to turnips and sweet-potatoes.

Large Ratification Mass Meeting at Faneuil Hall.

BOSTON, August 27—Faneuil Hall was crowded this evening for a grand rally and ratification of the Philadelphia address and declaration of principles.

Hon. Henry W. Paine presided, and Judge Benjamin R. Curtis, Colonel Thomas Aspinwall, and William Gray were among the vice-presidents.

Senator Doolittle was the principal speaker.

DECLINES THE HONOR.—Mr. G. W. Dillard, of Albemarle, Va., declines the "distinguished honor" of being a delegate to the Philadelphia Radical Convention. He says, I was not consulted in the appointment, and respectfully decline acceptance. Upon the basis of the "Constitution of the United States," have I rested my political faith, for the perpetuity of Republican principles; and I conceive that President Johnson's expressed views upon the restoration of the Union is the true basis of harmony throughout the domain of our country.

Forney is appalled at the impudence of the Conservatives. Not content with paying taxes and obeying the laws, Northern Democrats have the intolerable audacity to aspire to offices too; and Southern men not only dare to demand representation, but it is gravely suspected that even they consider it not sacrilegious to think of themselves in connection with public position. When the half-starved Oliver Twist ventured to ask for "more" it did not create so great sensation. Forney's extreme jealousy on this subject shows, in the slang of the day, "what's the matter with him."—Rich. Enquirer.

THE ALSIKE CLOVER.—The Alsike clover seed, recently introduced into this country, through the mediumship of the Agricultural Bureau, has been found to be a very superior quality and perfectly adapted to our soil. Many communications have been received by Commissioner Newton, uniting in the belief that this clover is superior to all clover both for haying and pasturing. The society of Shakers at Mount Lebanon, New York, have written to the commissioner attesting its good qualities and ask to be informed of the manner of obtaining it in large quantities.—Washington Star.

The "Missouri Question" of the Present Day—The Coming November Election—Condition of Parties—The Prospects for Peace at the Polls.

[Correspondence of the Baltimore Sun.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—The "Missouri question," formerly so troublesome, was not half so threatening to the peace of the country as the question which has now been presented by the political condition of that State. The election in Missouri will take place in November. The canvass has already been very earnestly commenced. Politics rage there as fiercely as the war did. But the ex-rebels who formerly figured in the melee are now very quiet and demure, leaving the political conflict to be conducted by the Radicals on one side and the Conservatives on the other.

The Radical organs have predicted, if not invoked, social war in Missouri, and the Conservatives have, through their Philadelphia delegation, asked for protection from the general government. But we learn from prominent Conservative citizens of Missouri, now here, that they will need no aid from the military, and they are able, except in a few counties, to protect themselves.

The ex-rebels do not claim a right to vote. They stand aside. But the test oath of Missouri, embracing eighty-six articles, will exclude many loyal citizens from voting.

The United States Supreme Court at its last term had before it two cases which fully embraced the question of the constitutionaltiy of the test oaths of Missouri. The court decided that they were unconstitutional, but did not promulgate the decision. In deference to the political condition of Congress and the uncertainty of the result of the fall elections, or for other reasons not avowed, the court determined not to pronounce their judgement in these cases till the next term.

GENERAL NEWS.

Robert Bonner, of the New York Ledger, it is alleged, offered to endow Washington (Va.) College with the sum of ten thousand dollars if its president, General Lee, would contribute one article a week to his paper.

The immaculate Brownlow stated that at the surrender of Nashville he recovered $600,000 in specie, which had been taken from the State bank by Gov. Harris. He sold this for $700,000, and asked the Legislature to legalize his action. In a late message he states the treasure recovered at $450,000, and some impertinent legislator wants to know what has become of the other $150,000. Where is it? Echo through time will answer "where?"

TEXAS.—Hon. O. M. Roberts, president of the secession convention of 1861, has been chosen United States Senator from Texas. The ultra Union men voted for Mr. Roberts.

The collection of the direct tax imposed by Congress in 1861 has been suspended in Texas until January, 1868.

The cotton crop statements continue to be generally unfavorable, but on the Upper Brazos the cotton is yielding well.

The widow of the late Stephen A. Douglas, formely a Miss Cutts, and now remarried to Major Williams, an officer of the Federal army, will be present at the dedication of the monument to be erected in Chicago to the memory of her first consort.

A cotemporary speaks enthusiastically and hopefully of binding the Radical disunion party firmly together with "hooks of steel." A good deal of "hooking" and "stealing" has been going on in that party for years.

The Rev. Wm. H. Milburn, the blind preacher, who is supplying an Episcopal pulpit in Chicago, is attracting large audiences by his rare eloquence.

The Rev. Peter Cartwright has spent sixty-two years in the itinerant ministry in the West, and is still pretty vigorous for an old man. In a letter to the Central Christian Advocate of St. Louis, he says that he has never lost six months of that time by sickness.

The fact that the Philadelphia Convention preferred the eloquence of action to that of speech is in itself one of its strongest commendations.

Our Thursday Morning Dispatches.

The President in New York.—Magnificent Reception.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29, P. M.

The President was met by crowds of persons and delegations at Burlington and Trenton, New Jersey, where demonstrations of respect were made.

He arrived here this afternoon, and, while crossing the river, thundering salutes were fired. At the pier, he was received by the different municipal committees and citizens, among whom were A. T. Stewart, Jacob B. Astor, Commodore Vanderbilt, Moses Taylor and others.

He was then escorted to the City Hall, where Mayor Hoffman welcomed him formally to the great metropolis,—to which he replied in felicitous terms.

Subsequently, the heads of the City departments were presented, and, shortly afterwards, the President was escorted up Broadway by a military and civic procession, and finally to Delmonico's, corner of 14th. St. and 5th. Avenue. Then the military passed in review before the President,—the officers saluting and soldiers and citizens cheering.

This evening the President and party will participate in a splendid banquet at Delmonico's and afterwards proceed to the 5th. Avenue Hotel.

The march of the procession was witnessed by hundreds of thousands of spectators,—the number exceeding, if possible, that which lined that great thoroughfare on the occasion of funeral honors to the late President.

The civil and military authorities co-operated with the citizens and merchants with remarkable unanimity, and thus gave to their distinguished guest the grandest reception ever accorded to any public personage during our day. The genuine enthusiasm seemed to mark it as a spontaneous ovation of the people to the champion of their rights and liberties!

PARIS, Aug. 29, M.

The Morning Post says that the Empress of Mexico has so far succeeded with Napoleon as to extend the time for payment of the monies due to France. He refused to loan Maximilian 10,000,000 of francs for the equipment of troops in Mexico, but consented to furnish material from the French arsenals. He also agreed not to withdraw the French troops before January.

PRAGUE, Aug. 29, M.

Raymond and the Radicals.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29, P. M.

Raymond has met the threats to expel him, by calling a meeting of the National Union Executive Committee, by virtue of his position as Chairman.

Gov. Ward, of N. J., writes a letter thereupon, denouncing Raymond as a betrayer of his party, and repudiating his call.

Pennsylvania Politics—Disgraceful Conduct of Philadelphia Authorities.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 29, P. M.

J. L. Getz, Editor of the Reading Gazette, has been nominated as the Democratic candidate for Congress in the Berks District.

In this city, the Republican nominees for Congress are Wm. D. Kelly, Leonard Myers, Chas. O'Neill and Jos. Scindhall.

The Democrats and Conservatives, who support the President's policy, express great indignation at the course of the municipal authorities for refusing hospitalities to the President and party. By this action, or refusal to act, our officials have placed themselves in an exceptional position,—all other cities having tendered hospitalities.

The Presidential Tour,—The Speeches in New York.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.

In response to the Mayor's Address of welcome on yesterday, the President, in a voice evidently affected by emotion, remarked as follows:

"To make a reply to what you have just given utterance to, under the circumstances would be more than I could undertake. I am overwhelmed at the reception you have accorded me.—(Applause.) Language is inadequate to give expression to my feelings. I accepted your invitation and I now beg you will recieve in return my most sincere and heartfelt thanks.

Such an invitation from this great metropolis ought to encourage and does encourage me in the faithful discharge of my duty. (Cheers.)—It is peculiarly acceptable at this time, fresh as we are from the battle-field. But there is a still greater battle before us. (Cheers.) In reference to what I have done, it is before you, and it is for you to determine what my conduct has been.

In conclusion, let silence speak for me what I ought to say and what I intend to do. (Cheers.) In accepting these resolutions of the municipal authorities, accompanied by sentiments so gracefully uttered, I again return you my sincere thanks."

At the conclusion of the President's remarks, he was greeted by three times three cheers.—Loud calls were then made for Secretary Seward, who said:

"I feel that I am at home, and I thank you for the welcome you have extended to me.—[Applause.] I feel more than that; for I have brought with me to your and my home the President of the United States,—united by the arms of our heroes, by the virtue of our citizens, and by the wisdom and energy of our Chief Magistrate.

If anything is wanting, it is the certificate which we look for at the coming polls, to bear us out in our opinion that the United States should consist of thirty-five, instead of twenty-five, States! (Great applause.) In the City and State of New York, the people should be faithful, first, to their wives; then to their children; then to the City and State; and then to the country. To this duty I adhere; and if persons were to interfere with me in faithfully carrying out this principle, I could overbalance them and still be faithful to the country." (Applause.)

The President, Secretary Seward, Gen. Grant, Admiral Farragut and Secretary Welles were quartered at Delmonico's, while the remainder of the party were provided for at Fifth Avenue Hotel.

The President received many visitors last evening.

A New and Grand Epoch in Medicine!

DR. MAGGIEL is the founder of a new Medical System! The quantitarians, whose vast internal doses enfeeble the stomach and paralyze the bowels, must give precedence to the man who restores health and appetite, with from one to two of his extraordinary Pills, and cures the most virulent sores with a box or so of his wonderful and all healing Salve. These two great specifics of the Doctor are fast superseding all the stereotyped nostrums of the day. Extraordinary cures by Maggiel's Pills and Salve have opened the eyes of the public to the inefficiency of the (so-called) remedies of others, and upon which people have so long blindly depended. Maggil's Pills are not of the class that are swallowed by the dozen, and of which every box full taken creates an absolute necessity for another. One or two of Maggiel's Pills suffices to place the bowels in perfect order, tone the stomach, create an appetite, and render the spirits light and buoyant! There is no griping, and no reaction in the form of constipation. If the liver is affected, its functions are restored; and if the nervous system is feeble, it is invigorated. This last quality makes the medicines very desirable for the wants of delicate females. Ulcerous and eruptive diseases are literally extinguished by the disinfectant power of Maggiel's Salve. In fact, it is announced that Maggiel's Billious, Dyspeptic and Diarrhoea Pills cure where all others fail. While for Burns, Scalds, Chilblains, Cuts and all abrasions of the skin, Maggiel's Salve is infallible. Sold by J. MAGGIEL, 11 Pine St., New York, and all Druggists, at 25 cts. per box.

FEVER and Ague is not the only consequence of the miasmatic poison. A great variety of disorders arise from its irritation, in malarious districts, among which are Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Headache, Blindness, Toothache, Earache, Catarrh, Asthma, Palpitation, Painful Affection of the Spleen, Hysterics, Pain in the Bowels, Colic, Paralysis, and Derangement of the Stomach, all of which, when originating in this cause put on the intermittent type, or become periodical. This "CURE" expels the poison from the blood, and thus cures them all alike. It is not only the most effectual remedy ever discovered for this class of complaints, but it is the cheapest and moreover is perfectly safe. No harm can arise from its use, and the patient when cured is left as healthy as if he had never had the disease. Can this be said of any other cure for Chills and Fever? It is true of this, and its importance to those afflicted with the complaint cannot be over estimated. So sure is it to cure the Fever and Ague, that it may be truthfully said to be a certain remedy. One Dealer complains that it is not a good medicine to sell, because one bottle cures a whole neighborhood.

SOMETHING NEW

UNDER THE SUN.

A New Era In Medicine

☞ Let the Suffering and Diseased read the following.

☞ Let all who have been given up by Doctors, and spoken of as incurable, read the following.

☞ Let all who can believe facts and can have faith in evidence, read the following:

Know all men by these presents, That on this, the Twentieth day of June, in the year of our Lord, One Thousand Eight Hundred and Sixty-Six, personally came Joseph Haydock to me, known as such, and being duly sworn, deposed as follows: That he is the sole general agent for the United States, and dependencies thereof, for preparations or medicines known as MAGGIEL'S PILLS and SALVE, and that the following certificates are verbatim copies to the best of his knowledge and belief.

JAMES SMEITER,
L. S. Notary Public,
Wall Street, New York.

June 1, 1866.

DR. MAGGIEL:—I take my pen to write you of my great relief and that the awful pain in my side has left me at last—thanks to your medicine. Oh, doctor, how thankful I am that I can get some sleep. I can never write it enough. I thank you again and again, and am sure that you are really the friend of all sufferers. I could not help writing to you, and hope you will not take it amiss.

JAMES MYERS,
116 Avenue D.

This is to certify that I was discharged from the army with Chronic Diarrhœa, and have been cured by Dr. Maggiel's Pills.

WILSON HARVEY,
New York, April 7, 1865. 27 Pitt Street.

The following is an interesting case of a man employed in an Iron Foundry, who, in pouring melted iron into a flask that was damp and wet, caused an explosion. The melted iron was thrown around and on him in a perfect shower, and he was burnt dreadfully. The following certificate was given to me by him about eight weeks after the accident.

New York, Jan. 11, 1866.

My name is Jacob Hardy; I am an Iron Founder; I was badly burnt by hot iron in November last; my burns healed, but I had a running sore on my leg that would not heal; I tried Maggiel's Salve, and it cured me in a few weeks. This is all true, and any body can now see me at Jackson's Iron Works, 2nd Avenue.

J. HARDY,
119 Georick Street.

Extract from Various Letters:

"I had no appetite; Maggiel's Pills gave me a hearty one."

"Your Pills are marvelous."

"I send for another box, and keep them in the house."

"Dr. Maggiel has cured my headache that was chronic."

"I gave half of one of your pills to my babe for cholera morbus. The dear little thing got well in a day."

"My nausea of a morning is now cured."

"Your box of Maggiel's Salve cured me of noises in the head. I rubbed some of your Salve behind my ears and the noise left."

"Send me two boxes; I want one for a poor family."

"I enclose a dollar; your price is twenty-five cents, but the medicine to me is worth a dollar."

"Send me five boxes of your pills."

"Let me have three boxes of your Salve by return mail."

I have over 200 such Testimonals

As this, but want of space compels me to conclude

THE SENTINEL.

WM. B. PELL, Proprietor

(From the New York Citizen.)

Philadelphia.

VOICE OF THE BOYS IN BLUE.

Be merciful to the South—
Not with the empty word in your mouth,
But merciful be—let your actions tell
To the men who were beaten, but fought so well:
Be merciful to the South!

Be generous to the South—
Gentle in deed and in word of mouth:
For no craven brand on the forehead shines
Of the men who met us in volleying lines,
And fought for the flag of the South.

Be tender and just to the South,
For famine, and slaughter, and hunger, and drouth
They have suffered who made such a gallant fight
For a cause that was wrong, but they thought was right.
Be just to the beaten South!

Be just and be something more,
Now that the hot days of battle are o'er:
For brothers we were in the glorious past,
And brothers again we must be at last.
Be merciful to the South!

We are all here once more,
The terrible days of our conflict o'er;
And again the old flag floats elate
O'er the capitol dome of each sister State
In the East, North, West and South.

Let us join hands once more,
Renewing the vows that our fathers swore—
Forgetting all strife, save the lessons it taught,
And meeting as reconciled brothers ought—
A reconciled North and South.

Errors on both sides were;
But for these—they are past, and we have no care;
Let a sponge glide o'er the hideous years
Of terror and bloodshed, havoc and tears,
Dividing the North and South.

One destiny holds us yet:
We have common hopes and a common debt;
For England was false to us both alike,
And against her power, with strong arms, should strike
The reconciled North and South.

Oh! 'tis a glorious hour!
That joins us again in imperial power!
And long o'er the land of the free and brave
May the Pine and Palmetto united wave—
Fit emblems of North and South!

Again, like two parted friends,
With our quarrel fought out, the hatred ends;
And none more welcome this happy day
Than the Boys in Blue and the Boys in Gray,
Who fought for the North and the South.

Late Private 47th N. Y. Vol. Infantry.

"I Have Orders not to Go."

"I have orders, positive orders, not to go there; orders that I dare not disobey," said a youth who was being tempted to a smoking and gambling saloon.

"Come, don't be so womanish! come along like a man," shouted the youths.

"No, I can't break orders," said John.

"What special orders have you got? Come, show them to us, if you can. Show us your orders."

John took a neat little book from his pocket, and read aloud:

"Enter not into the paths of the wicked; and go not in the way of evil men. Avoid it! pass not near! turn from it! and pass away!"

"Now," said John, "you see my orders forbid my going with you. They are God's orders, and by his help I mean to keep them."

"Come."—I verily believe there is not a sweeter word in the Bible than the word "Come." I am sure that when it fell from the lips of Jesus, when the Spirit and the Bride uttered it, when it was echoed by the tongues of apostles and saints, and in all these cases was addressed to the weary and heavy laden,—to those who were athirst with spiritual needs,—it was so full of grace and truth that it could not be exceeded in preciousness by any word in human speech; and this word "Come" is the key note of the Gospel. "Come!" with whatever thirst you faint, "come and drink; come and take the water of life freely."

The way words are divided when set to music sometimes produces a rather ludicrous effect. A stranger was once surprised on hearing a congregation, mostly of women, crying out:

"Oh for a man!
Oh for a man!
Oh for a man sion in the skies."

While on another occasion a choir sang to the best of their ability:

"We'll catch the flee!
We'll catch the flee!
We'll catch the flee—ting hours."

A child, speaking of his home to a friend, was asked, "Where is your home?" Looking with loving eyes at his mother, he replied, "Where mother is?" Was ever question so truthfully, beautifully, or touchingly answered?

THE NATIONAL UNION BUSINESS COLLEGE

WASHINGTON, D. C.,

Offers superior advantages for a thorough Business Education.

The course of instruction embraces Commission, Importing, Jobbing, Retailing, Bank and other Bookkeeping, Commercial Law, Arithmetic, Correspondence, Spencerian Penmanship and Business Practice.

PENMANSHIP is taught by Henry C. Spencer, the leading author of this system, and celebrated as the Editor of the "Spencerian Key to Practical Penmanship," adopted by nearly all first class Colleges as the standard of criticism. Unusual facilities are here presented for acquiring this valuable art.

The system of "BUSINESS PRACTICE," originated and successfully taught by the Proprietor, receives his special attention. This is the most valuable part of the course. Here the student applies his theoretical knowledge. He buys and sells representative mdse, makes out notes, drafts, invoices, &c., deposits College money in the College Bank, and checks it out as his business requires. Becoming, in turn, Retailer, Wholesale, Forwarder, Banker, he soon acquires a knowledge of business forms, learns to compose and condense the history of every transaction and thinks for himself. He is thus prepared for actual business.

Full scholarship, good for review at any time, with Life Membership in this Union of Colleges extending to the principal cities, only $45. Books and stationery extra.

For circulars giving full information, for specimens of Penmanship, of the College currency and merchandise.

BUCKEYE SULKY PLOW.

Being impressed with the necessity, and importance of economy in farming, I am happy to have it in my power to furnish to farmers at manufacturers prices the BUCKEYE COTTON & CORN CULTIVATOR OR SULKEY PLOW.

It is certainly the greatest improvement of the age in agricultural implements.

It will, with two horses and one hand, cultivate as much land, and do it as well, as four horses and four hands in the usual way; and the plower can either walk or ride at pleasure; which enables old or decripped men, who cannot follow the common plow to execute the work as well as the most robust.

It is manufactured by R. Sinclair & Co., Baltimore, at $70, and is the cheapest plow in use, because of the great saving in hands, teams and provisions. For further information upon the subject, address,

HILLSBOROUGH MILITARY ACADEMY.

The exercises of this well known institution, founded by the late Col. C. C. Tew, will be resumed on the 1st. day of October next, under the direction of Gen R. E. COLSTON, a graduate, and for fifteen years, (up to the commencement of the war) a Professor of the Va. Military Institute.

The course of instruction will be such as to make the Academy a great a school of theoretical and applied science—in which languages and literature will also receive a full share of attention. The discipline and instruction will be upon a complete military basis.

Gen'l. Colston's long experience and extensive acquaintance enable him to assure the public, that he will secure the services of Professors of distinguished ability as the wants of the school require them, and he confidently relies upon the liberal patronage of his old friends and companions in arms, throughout N. C. and the whole South.

Applications for admission must be made as early as practicable, to the Superintendent, and accompanied by testimonials of good moral character Circulars containing full information will be issued in a few days. For these, and all further particulars, apply to GEN R. E. COLSTON,
